Elmer Martin Welcomed As New Member of City Council

Elmer A. Martin, the newly appointed member of the council took his seat last evening, and immediately got right down to business.

Welcomes Martin

When the meeting was called to order Mayor Mattie A. Chandler made a short address of welcome to the new councilman. "The members of this council," said the mayor in addressing Martin, "appointed you to fill the unexpired term of the late Frank A. Scholes. We feel that you will serve the public of the city to the very best of your ability, and will aid in the development of our city. On behalf of the council I wish to welcome you as a member of this body."

Martin Replies

Councilman Martin in replying said "I feel that a high commitment has been paid me when I was selected to fill this vacancy, and I wish to assure you that I will work in harmony with the members of this body in all matters that are for the best interests of Richmond. During the eleven years that I have been a resident of this city, I have always taken a keen interest in the progress of Richmond, and I sincerely hope that during my term on this body that I may have the opportunity to do everything in my power to aid in its growth. "Richmond has the facilities to make it a great industrial city, and it is my prediction that in a comparatively few years it will be one of the foremost on the Pacific Coast.

"My only regret in taking this position is the manner in which the vacancy came about. I have known Mr. Scholes for years.

have watched his rise with a great deal of interest, and also kept in touch with the good work that he accomplished while a member of this body, and I wish to say that I want to be a part in carrying on the good work, which he was a strong factor in starting. Again I want to assure you that my best efforts will be put forth for the advancement of Richmond."

The dedication of Westminster house, the Presbyterian student center adjoining the University of California campus, took place with Dr. Lewis B. Hillis in charge of the program.

Instead of the usual week's meetings, the synod business has been condensed to three sessions, ending today to avoid conflict with evangelistic conferences to be held in San Francisco preceding the 139th assembly of Presbyterian churches of the United States.

Missionaries from all parts of the world are addressing the Presbyterian women's missionary congress which opened Sunday in San Francisco and will close tonight. Mrs. M. Pardee, Mrs. W. H. During the month 15,616 tons of cargo were handled of which amount 7146 was sugar.

Albany Election Will Be Today

ALBANY, May 23.—Albany tomorrow will hold its first municipal election under its new charter, recently adopted, giving the city a commission form of government.

Five offices are to be filled and spirited contests have developed. Marvin J. Blackwell is the only candidate for a place on the board of education.

The new charter increases the city council from three to five and one of these places is to be filled by the voters. The council will appoint the fifth member.

The principal interest of the voters lies in the fights for the posts of chief of police, city attorney and city judge. John L. Glavinovich, city marshal for 15 years, is a candidate for police chief, with Ernest C. Blow, Frank Ryan and Leon A. Abbey as his opponents.

A hot fight is being between Lovett K. Fraser, incumbent, and George Sharp for the city attorney's office. Fraser charges that Sharp is not a resident of Albany and ineligible for office. He had Sharp's name removed from the ballot but the latter is conducting a "write-in" campaign. George W. Hickman, incumbent, John H. Paul, former judge, and Christian Petersen are candidates for the judicial post.

"Wish I Could See Paris Alone," Says Pilot
After Adulation

(By Universal Service)
PARIS, May 23.—"Gee, I wish I could see Paris alone! Paris may be beautiful, but I haven't had a chance to see it. I would love to walk alone on the Champ d'Elysee!"

This was the simple plaint tonight of Captain Charles Lindbergh, who was feted and honored today as only conquerors are feted and honored.

Unimpressed

The youth, made famous overnight, wears his honors lightly. Still with the same boyish smile with which he started off on his flight, and with the same nonchalance with which he completed it, Lindbergh today accepted the cross and ribbon of the Legion of Honor, and the personal tributes of President Doumergue and Premier Poincare.

Still Unspooled

Curry To Speak At Harbor Day Celebration

Congressman Charles F. Curry will be one of the principal speakers at the luncheon to be held by the Richmond Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Carquinez next Thursday, which will be celebrated as "Richmond Harbor Day."

Congressman Curry yesterday accepted an invitation to address the gathering.

Congressman Curry will be honored at the luncheon, as he has been chiefly responsible for the federal appropriations and approval of the Richmond harbor project. Other city, county and state officials will also be guests at the luncheon.

The public has been invited to attend the luncheon. Reservations can be made at the Hotel Carquinez.

Thursday will mark the beginning of dredging operations under the new federal contract. The harbor will be dredged to a depth of 30 feet and the site of the Ford factory will be filled in.

Permit For Soft Drinks Referred

One soft drink application, that of John McPherson at 308 Macdonald avenue was granted by the council at its meeting last evening and two were referred to the license committee for one week.

F. G. Smith of 660 Ocean avenue asked the council for a permit to sell soft drinks in a traveling light wagon. There is an ordinance that prohibits traveling wagons in the business district, but councilman Hartnett said he thought it was not fair to permit these wagons to wander about the town, as there were many people in established business who paid taxes on their property, and so far as he was concerned, he was against the application. Referred to the license committee.

COUNCIL INVITED TO HOLY GHOST FIESTA

At the meeting of the council last evening an invitation was read from Frank G. Rosa, the general chairman, inviting the members to attend the Holy Ghost festival to be held at San Pablo on June 4th, 5th and 6th.

History- 1927

Overwhelmed with the highest honors that the nations can give, Captain Charles Lindbergh is resting from a 33 hour flight that has made air history, and given the United States a new American hero.

It has given the nation a new thought as well.

Honors are magnificent tributes to the personnel of the flying forces of the United States. But they do not go beyond that. The nation lags far behind in actual construction of airplanes that would place it among the first in the aviation field.

In experimental work the Navy and Army have made rapid strides in developing ships to a point that shows clearly the progress that might be made with adequate appropriations and encouragement.

Lindbergh is an American, and the nation has been prompt to preen itself and quite consciously admit, "We did it."

Lindbergh is a type of young Americans who wait but their government's assistance to add laurels to the American eagle, whose depicted characteristic is that of FLYING.

Bids To Be Called On Street Improvement Work In 2 Weeks

No protests were read at the council meeting last evening against the improvement of Bissell avenue and 39th and 41st streets with the result that bids were called for in two weeks.

On the improvement of Potrero and Stege avenues and 41st streets, a number of protests were read and these will be heard at the meeting next Tuesday evening.

The principal protest was from the Key System Transit company, and personal ones were filed by B. Maxwell, Mrs. Marie Kahler and others.

A peculiar feature of the situation that developed was that some of those who signed petitions asking for the work, also put their names on the protests.

Councilman Hartnett stated that the council had been trying to provide a good street for the people in that section, as they had been asking for it for years, but it seemed that there was always some one to bob up and protest.

A canvass of the owners of property on the street, the city engineer stated, showed the following result. Forty four owners, representing 3620 feet of frontages, favor the work; 14 owners representing 1328 feet are against the improvement; 7 owners representing 600 feet are undecided, and 17 owners representing 900 feet did not reply to the questionnaire sent out.

Withdrawal Of Busses Cause Furor In The West Side

The residents of the Westside are up in arms against the taking of the bus line off Washington and Richmond avenues, in making their trip to the ferry, and appeared at the meeting of the council last evening, and expressed their sentiments.

The result of the discussion was that although the council has no jurisdiction in the matter, it passed a resolution expressing the sentiment that it was strongly in favor of a continuance of the route the bus line has been traveling for some time.

Attorney Lee D. Windrem acting as spokesman for the westside people, said he thought that as that section paid forty per cent of the taxes of the city, and were also good at election time, it at no other time, that he thought they were entitled to some consideration.

"The street car company has withdrawn the bus from the route it has been traveling," he said, "and it makes it very inconvenient for us. It compels us to walk a number of blocks in order to get a bus to the ferry."

H. G. Stidham suggested that some of the busses run only as far as Sixth street, and the people of the eastside could take it there, which would afford time (Continued on Page 3)

Sanford To Erect Building On Tenth

On the recommendation of the city planning commission the council last evening granted P. M. Sanford a permit to erect a light industry building on Tenth street between Chanslor and Bissell avenue. The property is now classified in industrial zone No. 1. The one story brick building that Sanford will erect will be occupied by a casket factory.

Murdock Zoning Gets Adoption

The ordinance reclassifying the property at the corner of Twenty third and Macdonald and known as "Metropolitan Square" was adopted by the council, at its meeting last night.

Guild Hall Permit Given To Commission

The application of Ernest Flores for a permit to construct a Guild hall, adjoining the Episcopal church at the westside, was referred by the council last evening to the planning commission for a hearing.

SCOTS TO GIVE SHOW TONIGHT

With practically every reserved seat already sold, a packed house is anticipated for the show to be staged by Richmond Pyramid of Scots this evening at the California Theatre. The reserved seat sale opened yesterday at Olney's department store.

The final ticket sale will start at 10 o'clock this morning at the California Theatre box office, with balcony seats also on sale at that time.

William Barry, general chairman of the committee, has advised the holders of the white tickets to exchange them for the reserved seat pasteboards at the earliest possible moment to secure the best seats. Reserve seats may also be obtained direct at the theatre.

Closing Of Essex Street Proposed

The council at its meeting last evening adopted a resolution calling for the closing of Essex street, near the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing company plant. The portion of the street that will be closed is faced on both sides by the property of the pottery plant.

WHO CARES!

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, May 20.—Tattooing is being used extensively as an aid to beauty instead of cosmetics, Dr. Marvin D. Shie, of Cleveland, told the American Medical Association today.

Permanent "pink cheeks" and "Cupid's Bow" lips are being applied to many beauty seekers by the modern tattooist, Dr. Shie revealed, adding this is a refinement of the "garish" markings of savages. He warned that tattooing sometimes results in many serious diseases including gangrene, tetanus, leprosy, and tuberculosis of the skin.

Grave fears are held for the safety of many residents of this section who refused to evacuate when warned. EL CERRITO TO INSTITUTE NEW STREET REPAIR

Six hundred and fifty dollars was appropriated by the trustees of El Cerrito Monday for the repairing of streets. The program includes streets in the Mira Vista and Villa Nevada tracts which are to be rolled and holes filled and the grading of portions of Lake street, Fink Lane, Denal, Eureka, Lexington, Walde and Central avenues.

The recommendation was made by Trustees Frank McDermott and Phil A. Lee.

As no protests were received for the paving of Fairmont avenue the trustees ordered bids called for on June 13th. The improvement is the paving of Fairmont avenue from San Pablo avenue to the easterly city limits with an asphaltic concrete base and a Warrenite wearing surface.

A resolution of intention for the paving of Albermarle street from Eureka to Stockton avenue with a water bound macadam base and an asphaltic macadam tapping was passed by the trustees.

On a request of Fire Chief W. A. Hinds the city ordered two lengths of three quarter inch hose purchased.

Charles E. Donnelly, the local manager of the Key System, said that it was apparent the members of the council did not understand the situation.

"It is impossible for us to make connections with the new bus schedule and continue on the old route," he declared. "On account of the two safety stops, one at Standard avenue and the other at Richmond avenue, time would be lost that would cause us to miss the bus. We kept tab last Friday of the traffic from the east side and also from the west side. From the latter point there were 12 passengers to the city, and 11 returning that day.

"From the east side there were 150 passengers. It is simply a question of 150 against 23. The company desires to accommodate the people in every way possible but it is impossible to take in the west side."

The Key System will be informed of the resolution adopted by the council, and efforts will be made to have a conference in the near future with the officials of the traction company.

They were escorted to their places, along with the other officers, by Alameda's flag team and Richmond's drill team.

The float was decorated in pale green crepe paper with the word Richmond spelled out in the pink apple blossoms. The float led the Richmond girls, and carried the mothers.

EARLY PEACE DUE IN SOUTH

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, May 23.—Col. Henry L. Stimson, who was sent to Nicaragua by President Coolidge to bring about peace there returned today and reported to the President that his mission was so successful that it may soon be possible to recall a large number of American marine from the army of occupation.

He made it clear, however, that a force of some proportions would have to remain there indefinitely until after the elections of 1928, which the United States has consented to supervise. It was the promise to do so, he said, which caused the revolutionists to lay down their arms.

Until he was able to establish peace between the warring factions the fighting had been extremely fierce and casualties in proportions to the number engaged were as high as in the world war, he declared.

"I doubt if the people of this country have appreciated the bitterness of the strife and the horrors of the conditions which have existed during the revolution," he said. "Not only has the actual fighting been fierce but the conduct of the warfare has been brutal beyond expression."

"When I reached Nicaragua I found that no prisoners were being taken by either side. The wounded when captured were killed and even when not captured most of them fell victims to the hardships of the climate and the jungle in which the fighting took place. Cases were brought to my attention where noncombatants, men, women and children, were butchered in cold blood and also cases where noncombatants were tortured and mutilated. The country was rapidly drifting into anarchy and was becoming filled up with armed men who had formerly been in one army or the other and who were choosing the easier course of banditry."

Colonel Stimson said that General Noncaja, leader of the rebel, or liberal army, had helped restore peace instead of obstructing it.

Yosemite Needs "Bear Insurance"

(By Universal Service)
YOSEMITE, May 23.—"Say, mister, where can a fellow get bear insurance?" asked a newly arrived visitor today as he approached one of Uncle Sam's rangers. "You see," continued the new arrival, "I left a light lunch in my closed car last night, and this morning I found was broken glass on the ground, and evidence of a bear's picnic."

This is the first request for bear insurance in Yosemite, although depredations of bears in Yosemite upon the cabins of workmen and rangers have become so serious that the National Park Service is seeking a means of curbing them without injury.

Gas experiments were recently conducted in co-operation with the chemical warfare service. Although a heavy concentration of the gas was given the small black bear chosen for the experiment no discomfort whatever was caused him, so the park authorities are seeking other means of holding the bears in check without driving them out of the park.

Saved From Bright's Disease; Remains Well Eleven Years

San Francisco, May 13, 1927. When I first met Fong Wan at Eighth and Clay streets, Oakland, eleven years ago, I was suffering from kidney trouble and rheumatism. The pain in my back extended to my legs and knees and was so severe that it was difficult to move around. I had previously gone to several kidney specialists, who had pronounced my trouble Bright's Disease, but had not been able to do me any good. Then I took the Fong Wan Herb Treatment, and I have felt fine during all these years.

Being a traveling man, I have to ride day after day all over the State. This is naturally very hard on my kidneys. As a matter of precaution, every spring I take one or two weeks of the Fong Wan Herb Treatment and thus keep my kidneys in good shape.

I have known Fong Wan so long that he has become my friend as well as my healer. I have recommended a number of my acquaintances to take the Fong Wan Herbs, and without exception they have obtained satisfaction results.

prisonment recommendation is made; second degree murder with a penalty of 10 years to life imprisonment or a manslaughter verdict with a penalty of 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary.

Predict Manslaughter
Close followers of the trial predict a manslaughter with a probability of the jury disagreeing.

Dorothy Mackaye was not in the courtroom today and is still in retirement.

It is hoped that Murray will close his argument in time to permit Judge Burnell to instruct the jury before adjournment tonight. Kelly will then enter upon that period of anxious waiting, while the twelve arbiters of his fate reach their decision.

"Love" Argument
Throughout his argument Gilbert pictured Kelly as possessed of more youth than common sense. He blamed Raymond for losing the affections of his wife and defended the first attack made by Kelly as the act of a hot-tempered and love-lorn boy. He cautioned the jury that there are two sides to every case.

In opening the arguments for the state on Saturday, Deputy Prosecutor George W. Kempt characterized Miss Mackaye as the "assassin of her dead husband's reputation." He charged Kelly with breaking up Raymond's home, stealing the affections of the musical comedy actor's wife and then beating Raymond and causing his death.

NOVELIST HELD FOR MURDER

(By Universal Service)
WILLIAMSBURG, Conn., May 23.—Following a plea of "not guilty" Leonard Cline, novelist and playwright, was today bound over to the grand jury on a charge of killing Wilfred Irwin, his close friend, a week ago.

The grand jury will meet on June 7 and State's Attorney Thomas F. Noone will ask for a first degree murder indictment. Cline is being held without bail.

Cline is in jail tonight. Until today he has been in the hospital, where he gave a pint and a half of his blood in an effort to save the life of the man he is accused of shooting five times.

If Cline is indicted his trial will be started shortly afterward. He will be defended by William A. King, former attorney general of the state.

The defense offered no evidence whatever today when Cline was arraigned before Justice of the Peace George H. Andrews.

It is believed the shooting occurred after they had several drinks. There were no witnesses to the shooting. Irwin is reported to have made a death bed statement, but it has not been made public.

Cline's sister was present at today's hearing, but his wife was not there.

DAN, THE MIRACLE MAN—

Ed Sullivan's SPORT WHIRL

PARKINSON REFLECTS ON INDIAN WIN
HARRY PARKINSON, the veteran marathoner, dropped into this office yesterday and marveled at the victory scored by Chief Quana-wahu, the Hopi Indian snake priest, in the twenty-six-mile New York to Long Beach marathon. Parkinson believes that the victory not only presages a new perspective on marathon running, but also indicates that the sport of marathon running will be generally recognized as a ranking American sport.

Parkinson, in common with the rest of the eastern stars, didn't believe that the Indian, fresh from the rare climate of mountainous Arizona, would be able to acclimate himself to the moist climate of the East.

However, the Indian, from the start of the race, not only secured the lead, but also maintained it. Whitney Michelsen was never able to catch up to the Indian leader, despite the fact that Michelsen ran through-out at the rear wheel of an official car with Chief Quana-wahu at the right front wheel of the same car.

Parkinson states that the Indian runner never changed expression from the moment the race started to the finish. The same strained expression, which prevailed on the Indians' faces, also prevailed as they crossed the finish line.

As Colorful as Dorando
Parkinson believes that the Indian's victory in the Long Beach marathon has had a tremendous effect on long-distance running.

Marathon running, always methodical, has suffered from the annual presence of the same old faces. The fleet Indian runners have changed all this.

Just as Dorando of Italy revived the sport by his magnetic feat, so also have the Indians breezed a new life into a game, which, at best, is monotonous in appeal.

Not alone have the Indians spurred the sport, they have also promised America that the United States will have some one besides Clarence De Mar to represent this country in the 1928 Olympics.

It was a colorful race from start to finish. Several of the Indian runners disregarded conventions and ran clothed only in breechcloths.

This was something novel to the East, which had become accustomed to the running trunk and shirt of Eastern marathoners. Whether or not the Indian runners could repeat their fine Long Beach performance is a matter open to speculation. The fact that the winner collapsed and required two hours in which to recuperate suggests that the Redskins expended all of their strength in glorious victory.

The choppy strides of the Indians indicated that their marathon ability was the result of iron physique, rather than particular distance talent.

OFFENSIVE ON ALONG CHINESE BATTLE FRONTS

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND
(By Universal Service)
SHANGHAI, May 23.—A double offensive between the northern and General Chiang Kai Shek's
Nationalists, to take Hankow and eliminate the "Red" capital of China, now is on. The Nationalists from Hankow are within a short distance of Hankow, and at the same time, troops affiliated with General Chang Tso-Lin are pressing from the north. The situation at Hankow is reported to be desperate. General Chiang Shek is reported to be demanding the surrender of M. Borodin, Russian adviser to the Cantonese forces. The Japanese are rushing two additional destroyers, 150 marines, and six field guns to Hankow, evidently determined to hold their concession, regardless of consequences. Indications are that the coming week will transform the triangular Civil War into a dual struggle. The expectation is that the moderate nationalists soon will dominate China, south of the Yangtze river. The British Minister from Peking is here. It is understood, for the purpose of conferring with Major-General Duncan and Admiral Sir R. Y. Tyrwhitt, commanding the British land and sea forces, and more especially to talk to Nationalist Foreign Minister Wu, who has come to Shanghai for Nanking.

KARL H. VON WIEGAND

"More Blood" Cry Chinese Movie Gluttons

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, May 23.—One of the main questions discussed today at the annual convention of the sales force of the Metro-Goldwyn Mayer film organization was: "What do audiences like best on the screen?" And among the answers were these: "In China they don't like love scenes, but prefer fighting and plenty of action." "In Jugoslavia they are against sub-titles, because most of the spectators can't read." "Australians like the sophisticated drama of city life." "And New Yorkers prefer 'Westerns' and pictures of outdoor life."

Severence Of Anglo-Russia Relations Is Set For Today

body accredited to London by the soviet government in the same sense as the soviet embassy staff, and that it is inconsistent and illogical to exclude one from Britain and allow the other to remain.

Result of Raid

This crisis is the direct result of the raid undertaken by Scotland Yard on the premises of Arco Limited, the Russian trade headquarters. Exactly what the police discovered will be revealed in the House of Commons by Home Secretary Sir William Joynson-Hicks tomorrow, but the result has finally been adjudged sufficiently serious to warrant a rupture with the Soviets.

The cabinet has met repeatedly to decide the all important question of policy, and after two meetings today Universal Service was informed that those who argued against the severing of relations failed to carry conviction to the others.

The surprising development of the whole situation is that the foreign secretary has joined the ranks of the expulsionists. Favoring continued trade relations regardless of the red worldwide propaganda which is alleged to be conducted against Britain, but now as a result of the disclosure is the Arco raid he is reported to be ardently in favor of recalling the British representative at Moscow.

Former Premier Ramsay MacDonald is due tomorrow afternoon on the Berengaria. When he arrives at Waterloo station MacDonald will dash straight to the House of Commons to participate in the discussion of Anglo-Soviet relations. In the meantime he wirelessly labor leaders from the Berengaria, saying that "complete severance of relations with Russia now will be a blow to trade and confusion of diplomatic failure."

Bond Election In San Pablo Today

San Pablo's $35,000 school bond election will be held tomorrow, with the polls open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. The residents of the district will vote on the proposed bonds for six classrooms for the present school building.

First Plane Across Atlantic

Here's the plane that piloted intrepid Captain Charles A. (Lucky) Lindbergh across Atlantic wastes to Paris and the $25,000 Orteig prize—with other prizes and offers totalling half-million in prospect. Ship was made in San Diego and burned gas made at Richmond refinery. No wonder he got across!

De Pinedo Resumes Flight

MULTITUDE OF TRIBUTE FAILS TO AFFECT ACE

between America and France, Lindbergh remains the boy who has not quite completed his adventure. That adventure was to see Paris.

"As I have been over the Eiffel Tower, I would like to go up it," said Lindbergh.

With all the world at his feet, attested by a continuous bombardment of telegrams and letters, and the continuous cheering of the crowd that followed him all day long, this blond youth wanted to be left alone. He didn't shun honors, nor show annoyance. He was pleased, but preferred less attention.

Nor did he worry about the hundreds of offers, promising him undreamed of wealth, that poured into the American embassy today.

French Kisses

After a day that was a continuous round of honors, Captain Lindbergh tonight talked of his adventures during his second day in Paris. He confessed to being highly amused at being kissed on both cheeks by President Doumergue. Asked what he had thought about such kisses, Lindbergh replied:

"Well, that's like the fool question usually asked of airmen as to what they think of going up in a plane. It is never answered." Asked how he liked French girls, the American said:

"Very nice."

Likes 'Em Blond

"Do you like them blond?" he was asked. And he answered:

"Well, some gentlemen prefer them blond and I never was in a disputing mood."

To a question as to whether he had received any mash notes, he replied blushing:

"There have been some mash notes here. There always are for people in the public eye, aren't there? But I have not even had time to open my telegrams and cables."

Not Engaged

He was asked whether he was "engaged." He said:

"I have not even lost my heart."

"How do you like champagne?" was put to him.

"I had some at the Aero Club reception this afternoon for the first time in my life. I just slipped it. I don't know what it tasted like. It is supposed to be good, isn't it?"

"I flew for the sake of aeronautics, not for any personal or commercial gain," declared Lindbergh tonight. "I cannot consider any of these offers now. After all, I haven't got a million dollar

New Principle on Plane

PARIS, May 23.—"The airplane of the future, intended for long distance flights, or high speed, will be an airplane with a periscope, such as Lindbergh flew."

This is the opinion expressed today to Universal Service by Minister of War Painleve.

Painleve, a member of the French Academy of Sciences, and one of France's greatest aviation experts, said:

"Those who laughed at Lindbergh for his periscope plane did not realize that it was a scientific marvel, and the forerunner of the future."

Periscope Is Feature

"The type of plane generally used places the pilot and his protective windshield in front of him in such a position that they offer resistance which is enormous when the plane is going at high speed. In the construction of Lindbergh's plane a new principle is involved—visibility through a periscope for the aviator. With the aid of the periscope, he was able to shut himself up in the body of the plane, thus diminishing resistance and considerably increasing speed capacity."

"The periscope is a brilliant innovation. Most aviators will, at first, consider the idea of a periscope ridiculous, but in the end they will have to admit its value. The plane that will make the next speed record will be a plane with a periscope."

Plane Is First Thought

The first thought of Captain Charles Lindbergh today was his monoplane "The Spirit of St. Louis."

"The 'Flyin' Fool' of Missouri, undaunted by his role as the world's greatest air hero, undisturbed by the acclamations from every corner of the globe; calm and cool, as ever, in the face of momentary offers exceeding one million dollars, made possible by his unparalleled feat of flying alone from New York to Paris without a stop, "Lucky" Lindbergh today turned to the hangar at Le Bourget aerodrome which housed the sturdy and reliable little craft that made his record flight a success."

Plane Is Person

Lindbergh actually talks to his plane. In his conversation with newspapermen, it was "we" this and "we" that. When asked the wherefore of the "we," "Lucky" said:

"My plane. It was as much a part of the flight as I."

The intrepid aviator arose about nine o'clock this morning. He had breakfast and then battled his way through thousands of admirers and made a bee line for Le Bourget to examine his flight companion.

Lindbergh feared that exulting souvenir hunters might have carved pieces from the "Spirit of St. Louis," and damaged the plane in other ways.

When Lindbergh reached the hangar he went over his craft carefully, stroking it here and there with the tenderness that a horseman might show to a thoroughbred that brought home the trophy in a track classic. Then a smile crept over "Lucky's" face.

"There is less damage than I had feared."

Several hundred cameramen were on the job, and Lindbergh graciously stood posing while hundreds of shutters clicked and the news photographers did their stuff.

An avalanche of autograph hunters swept down on the Missouri hero. Lindbergh made a valiant effort to supply the demand, scrawling his name here there and everywhere—in albums, on scraps of paper, on cards and envelopes. The pace grew too hot for him, however, and his official escort pulled him away and hurried him back to Paris, where he had an appointment with President Doumergue, of France.

BRIDGE SITES TO BE VIEWED

Sites for bridges across San Pablo Bay, connecting Richmond and Marin county, will be inspected by the Contra Costa county Board of Supervisors next Thursday. The supervisors will view the site of the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge, Inc., original applicant for a franchise to erect and operate a toll bridge between Point San Pablo in Richmond and McNear's Point on the Marin county shore, as well as inspect that of the Richmond-San Rafael ferry company, which also has made application for a franchise to erect the bridge.

The supervisors are expected to view the sites from both land and water. They have been conducting a preliminary hearing of the application of the Richmond-San Rafael bridge corporation, headed by Roy O. Long of Berkeley. They will continue the hearing until June 6, when the application of the ferry company for a franchise will also be considered.
